

Certificate in Supervision Series

Being a supervisor is one of the most challenging roles in today's workplace. As the link between leadership and staff, standards of excellence are transmitted by supervisors. And when faced with greater expectations and increasing challenges, it is critical that supervisors be able to demonstrate effective supervisory techniques. More than 400 supervisors have completed this popular series which brings together the knowledge of experienced trainers to address the challenges that supervisors face today.

Sessions:

- Session I: Communication and Leadership
- Session II: Situational Leadership
- Session III: Conflict Management
- Session IV: Team Building
- Session V: Performance Management
- Session VI: Group Planning and Decision-Making

To see if registration is open for a Supervision Series visit www.providers.org/events

 The Providers' Council applies for NASW CEUs for this training and has historically received them for every session.*